CROWDS ARE OUT TO SEE OPENING OF SCOUT HOUSE

Speakers Present Badges
and Lodge in Service
Tuesday.

EAGLE SCOUTS DUBER 200 Badges are Awarded Boys for Merit Work in Troops.

Scores of townspeople flocked to the city reservoir at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon to see the opening of the new Boy Scout lodge, presented troops of Ada by the Lions Club and citizens of the town.

Three Eagle scouts, the highest rank obtainable in the organization, were dubbed during the ceremony. These are the first Eagle scouts in the county. More than 200 merit badges and first and second class badges were awarded. Presentation of the new scout bungalow near the city reservoir was a feature of the program.

All parents, relatives and friends of the boys were invited out for the ceremony and more than 300 people gathered around the lodge to witness the presentation of badges, hear the addresses and inspect the new scout home. Much interest was shown in the presentation of this home to the boys, it being one of the greatest events the Ada scouts have ever had opportunity to take part in.

Judge Orel Busby, president of the Boy Scout Council for the county, presided at the opening. In the absence of C. V. Gowing, president of the Lions club, Mr. Busby spoke briefly on the attitude of the Lions in lending their money and efforts in obtaining things for the boys. Cal Sparks, who has been active in Ada scout work, was present to announce the winners in the Twelfth street park contest. These prizes were athletic goods.

M. F. Manville, Rev. C. C. Morris, L. A. Ellison, R. W. Simpson and Scoutmaster D. T. Bradshaw, Walter Gowan and W. A. Hill were other speakers on the program who took part in the presentation of badges. Many mothers and sisters of scouts witnessed the ceremony.

M. F. Manville had charge of awarding first and second class badges to the boys. Those getting first class badges were Charles Perry, Donald Wilmoth, Frank Norris, Glen Potts, George Kidd, Verdale Shaffer, Wayne Goddard, Vernon Mackin, Charles Bowman, Scouts getting second class badges were Karl Houston, William Cooper, Loran Stafford, Clifton Elliot, Dan Proctor and Jeter Sneed.

Eagle Scouts Named. Three boys had obtained the highest ranking honor the Boy Scout organization provides, the Eagle Scout. They are Drew Page, Richard Simpson, and Russell McAllister. Badges were awarded them yesterday afternoon with proper ceremonies by R. W. Simpson, head of the court of honor.

Two hundred and thirty-five merit badges were awarded to 26 boys, the scoutmaster of each troop presenting them. Those receiving badges of merit were Terry Manville, George Goddard, Glen Potts, Chas. Perry, Harvey Faust, Harold Allen, Drew Page, Junius Ridling, Russell McAllister, Richard Simpson, Dean Spencer, Morris Spencer, Frank Norris, Henry Roach, Brown Mackin, William Roach, Renfro Herndon, Donald Wilmoth, Ben Page, Joe Hargis, Carl Spanzier, Rwayne Kidd, Charles Harwell, Verdale Shaffer, and Tom Steed.

Two boys were awarded the Life and Star scout badges, the latter being next in rank to the Eagle Scout. They were Harold Allen and Tom Steed.

Park Winner Announced. Winners in the park contest were as follows: Troop 5 first place, Troop 3, second place, and Troop 1 third place. The winner in the bugle contest was Troop 1, this troop having won by a big majority of efficiency points. Music was furnished by the Boy Scout band.

It was reported today that the scout lodge would be paid for if scout pledges for the year were run one month longer than the scout budget provides. It was through the efforts of the Boy Scout Council that Prof. W. A. Hill, leader of the band, was induced to stay in Ada this summer.

Milk for the lodge opening dinner was furnished by the Plainview dairy.

STIFLING WAVES OF HEAT SETTLE Chicago Is Baking Today and Prostrations Are Feared.

(By the Associated Press)

CHICAGO, July 13.—The unvarying forecast is "continued warm" with the central west today brimming in the heat wave that has been almost unbroken for three weeks. Temperatures in scores of cities ranged from 85 to 105 degrees and in some of the larger places industries have been suspended until showers or cooling winds sweep away the humid oppressiveness.

Baking streets in downtown Chicago promised heat prostrations today although the upper reach of office buildings and apartments gained respite from light breezes straight off Lake Michigan.

Reports from the vacation havens of Wisconsin and Minnesota indicate little joy for tourists. Green Bay only announced that a shower brought the temperature down from 99 to 74 degrees.

Iowa cities found no respite of the heat from local showers last night. One city reported 103 yesterday and 88 this morning.

HARDING WRITES ABOUT OIL DUTY

Fordney Blamed for Not Giving Message to the House.

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 13.—Chairman Fordney of the ways and means committee informed the house today that he had received a letter from President Harding relating to the proposed duty on oil in the tariff bill. He said it would be presented later, probably during consideration of the oil schedule. The letter was not for publication.

Reference was made to the president's letter by Representative Byrnes of South Carolina, Democrat, who asked the chairman when the debate on the bill reopened to say whether the text as given the public was correct.

"I have not read what has been published," Mr. Fordney said. "Well, the letter has been appearing and you have not given it to the house. The house ought to know who did it," Mr. Byrnes said, adding that the published text quoted the president as "protesting against taking oil from off the free list."

EDITOR'S CHAIR OF FAMOUS WOOD GIVEN HARDING

WASHINGTON, July 13.—A high back "editorial chair" presented to President Harding by more than 600 newspaper editors was added today to the furnishings of the presidential study in the White House.

It was made of wood from the famous old schooner Revenge, captured from the British on Lake Champlain during the Revolutionary war and was presented through a committee headed by Ernest F. Birmingham of the fourth estate.

Senator Capper of Kansas, publisher of the Topeka Capital, was selected to make the presentation speech and another member of the committee of 75 which arranged for the presentation was James M. Cox, publisher of the Dayton News and Mr. Harding's Democratic opponent for the presidency last year.

AMERICA NOT TO URGE ARMISTICE DAY FOR PARLEY

United States Will Wait
Until All Replies Are Received.

LONDON CONSIDERED But Little Doubt Exists That Washington Will Be Central Point.

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 13.—Great Britain's favorable reply to President Harding's invitation for an international conference on reduction of armament and far eastern questions had reached the state department today, having been preceded by that of France. The nature of the communication was not disclosed beyond its favorable character.

The replies of the other powers, Italy, Japan, and China, are expected shortly.

It has been indicated that the selection of Armistice Day, November 11, as the opening day for the session to be held in Washington, was not to be pressed until all the replies are in hand.

Press reports from London that the holding of the conference as to Pacific questions in the British capital instead of Washington was being suggested there, were not taken seriously in British circles here.

Secretary Hughes conferred with the president at the white house early today.

High School Work Given by O. U. In New Mail Courses

NORMAN, July 13.—(Special)—High school courses in every branch except science have been added to the curriculum of the corresponding department, extension division, University of Oklahoma, in order to enable high school students in small unaccredited schools of the state to complete the four-year course and enter a standard college or university without entrance examinations or working off extra hours as entrance requirements.

About thirty courses have been added, and although the courses were put in only a week ago, already 26 students have enrolled from five different schools. In September when schools start their term's work, it is expected that students from almost every unaccredited school in the state will enroll in the university correspondence courses. Numerous inquiries from all parts of the state have already been received.

Arrangements are that high school students may first complete the two or three years work which their school offers and then take the rest by correspondence, or that they may carry on correspondence courses at the same time they are doing residence work in their high schools.

In some school districts this work is managed by the district paying the enrollment fee for students and hiring one extra teacher who supervises the correspondence courses. But other plans are also being worked out.

LIVE STOCK POOL WILL BE STARTED EARLY NEXT WEEK

(By the Associated Press)

CHICAGO, July 13.—The $50,000,000 livestock pool subscribed by bankers in recent conferences here and in New York will be in operation by next Monday, July 18, according to Everett C. Brown, president of the National Livestock Exchange. M. L. McClure, a banker, will direct the pool, with offices in Chicago.

No direct loans will be made by the pool corporation, Mr. Brown announced, because the corporation has no machinery for investigating proposed loans. The loans will be made through local bank and cattle loan companies.

BANDITS LOCK CLERKS IN VAULT AND LEAVE (By the Associated Press)

DES MOINES, July 13.—Four bandits entered the Great Park bank shortly before noon today, locked the cashier and three girl clerks in a vault, and escaped with between seven and eight thousand dollars in money and bonds.

Miami Votes Bonds. (By the Associated Press)

MIAMI, July 13.—By a substantial majority the taxpayers of Miami yesterday at a special election approved a bond issue of $40,000 for the purchase of additional public park ground and the building of a convention hall or agricultural display building.

SCHOOLS EAGER FOR HIGH LEVY

One Board Votes Maximum
in Annual Meeting
Tuesday.

(By the Associated Press)

Fifty-eight school districts, scattered through Pontotoc county, held their annual meetings yesterday to wind up unfinished business of the year, clear their slates for the new fiscal year, and make up their annual expense budgets.

All went into session at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon in accordance with a program sent out by County Superintendent A. Floyd and will forward at once a report of their sessions to the superintendent. Only a few districts had reported this morning. Mr. Floyd said, though many are expected to have their reports filed before tomorrow night.

Enthusiasm for a high mill levy for the support of school districts was indicated in the few reports that came into the office yesterday afternoon and this morning, the superintendent said. In one case, a district which did not understand the terms of the bill passed by the last state legislature, voted 25 mills, the maximum under any circumstances.

The act provides that the governor may call a special election for the voting of the maximum of 25 mills at the request of the schools. Such election has not been called and this district may have to rescind its action, the superintendent said.

May Lower Levies. The county excise board can lower school mills if they appear unreasonable but cannot raise them in case the districts vote them too low, it was pointed out.

In practically every district of the county, satisfactory levies will be made for schools, it is anticipated. The fact that one district wished to go the limit may be taken as an indication of the general good school spirit of the county, the superintendent said, adding that no district could be blamed for such a mistake since books containing the new state session laws have not been issued for the information of school districts and boards. These books are supposed to arrive about November 1 and will be distributed broadcast over the county.

MEETING CALLED TO ADOPT PLANS

Joint Committee to Meet at
Normal This Week on Memorial.

Committees working on plans for the East Central Memorial Arch probably will be called together the last of this week to pass on drawings and take final steps preparatory to starting the arch. Dr. A. Linscheid, president of the Normal and chairman of committees, announced at noon today.

Although subscriptions to the arch now reach $2,985.96, the total easily will run over the $3000 mark before the end of the week, Dr. Linscheid said.

"The present amount does not include my own subscription," President Linscheid stated.

Two committees, one representing the Ada Lions Club and the other counties represented in the Normal district, are working on the arch proposition. Members of the Lions committee are R. W. Simpson, Byron Sledge and W. C. Duncan. Those on the other committee are Supt. F. L. Stewart of Okmulgee, Supt. E. B. Herring of Wynnewood, and Supt. Faust of Shawnee. These committees have elected E. C. Wilson, librarian at the Normal, as secretary, and President Linscheid as chairman.

"The committees did not deem it advisable to continue pushing plans for the arch and raising more money until we settle on architects' specifications and know what the Memorial arch will cost," said Mr. Linscheid. It is understood, however, that with the meeting of committees the last of this week definite action leading up to starting the arch will be taken.

MRS. KABER GETS HYSTERICAL WHEN BROTHER GOES ON

(By the Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, July 13.—Mrs. Eva Katherine Kaber, became hysterical while her brother, Charles Brickell, was testifying this morning in her trial for the murder of her husband, and screamed wildly until she slipped to the floor prostrate.

The court was thrown into such an uproar that proceedings were temporarily interrupted. Women spectators stood wringing their hands as the prisoner's shrieks pierced the air. Order was restored when Judge Bernon admonished the gallery to sit down. Mrs. Kaber was finally carried out by the bailiff.

THREE NATIONS ACCEPT OFFER ON CONFERENCE

Great Britain, France, and Italy Agree to Meet
on Disarming.

CHINA IS INTERESTED Japan Is Slow to Take Up American Proposal But May Act Soon.

(By the Associated Press)

LONDON, July 13.—Three of the principal allied nations, Great Britain, France and Italy, have officially signified their acceptance of President Harding's invitation to hold a conference on limitation of armament, while China has stated that she is ready to participate in a conference relating to far eastern affairs. Japan is the only one of the allies which has not recorded herself as being ready to take part in the Washington conference, but it is expected in official circles here that her acceptance will be communicated to the United States government soon.

In governmental circles in this city it appears to be the consensus of opinion that the meeting at Washington will be attended by some of the most prominent statesmen of the world. The announcement of Premier Briand of France that he would consider going to Washington was followed by indications that Premier Lloyd-George might also go, providing conditions in Great Britain are such as to permit his extended absence from that country. It is expected, however, that some of the leading figures in British official life will be present.

Pageant Will Cover 300 Years Interval of Country's History

(By the Associated Press)

PLYMOUTH, Mass., July 13.—Notwithstanding that 300 years have passed since the Pilgrim Fathers landed, no difficulty was encountered in finding descendants of those who came in the Mayflower for the cast of the pageant to be presented here tonight as a feature of the Pilgrim Tercentenary celebrations.

Among the principals for speaking or pantomimic roles in the spectacle, which requires 1200 actors, are Miles Standish Alden, descendant of John Alden, Grayton Howland, descendant of John Howland and Edward Winslow Bradford, Jr., and George Webster Dyer. John Delano, descendant of Philippe De La Noix, the French count who came to Plymouth in 1700 also has a part. In one scene in the pageant Mayflower descendants only will take the parts of first settlers.

Enid Man Given Tar and Feather Coat By Angry Crowd

(By the Associated Press)

ENID, July 13.—Walter Billings, son of Mrs. M. Billings, wealthy real estate and theatrical owner of Enid, was taken from an automobile near the Rock Island depot last night by several masked men, conveyed to a lonely spot on a country road near town, whipped, tarred and feathered. He was then returned to town and set free, clad only in his trousers and a coat of tar and feathers.

The whipping was the outgrowth of alleged domestic troubles in young Billings' family, according to the police.

Billings reported the whipping to the police department upon his return to the city last night. The chief of police is conducting an investigation with a view of learning the identity of the whipping party.

NO TRACE YET FOUND OF ESCAPED PRISONERS TULSA, July 13.—No trace had been found early today of the five prisoners who escaped from the city jail last night. One of the escaped men was Frank Hays, federal prisoner, charged with conveying liquor and complicity in automobile thefts. It is believed that they fought their way to freedom.

HUN DESTROYER SUNK BY PLANE

Bombers Rain Down Attack
On German G-102 in
First Test.

(By the Associated Press)

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., July 13.—The German destroyer G-102 was sunk at 10:40 today by army bombing planes from Langley field.

The destroyer, anchored at sea off the Virginia capes, was sent down by bombs rained down from the Martin bombing planes that led the attack. Reports to Langley field said the big De Havilland planes did not have a chance at the target. No problem of locating the target was involved.

Thirty-five army air planes took part in the experiment. The airmen were led by Brigadier General Mitchell, assistant chief of the air service, and represented the first test of army machines in the joint bombing tests operating with the navy forces against former German warcraft. The test today was to demonstrate the effect of land planes operating at sea against surface craft.

COURT IS DRAWN INTO LONG TERM

County Officers Labor to
Speed Up Docket But
Cases Are Slow.

Legal technicalities drew out the county court yesterday and in spite of efforts of the county to run off the criminal docket as quickly as possible, it was clearly evident today that the grid would be prolonged for some time, officers said.

After a long session on county criminal charges, the court will be forced to enter a sweltering sitting on the city appeal docket which is laden with smaller cases. The court continued yesterday its sitting on liquor charges and in the case of the state vs. Lee Rains and Will Large on a charge of transporting intoxicating liquors, the defendants were found not guilty and discharged.

The court has encountered some difficulty in getting negro defendants into court, County Judge Tal Crawford said today. To eliminate some trouble for the county sheriff's office, a copy of the criminal docket for the July session of the county court will be made and posted in "dark town" for the special notice of those who are to appear as defendants and witnesses, he intimated.

Tulsa Chief Enters Third Day of Trial in Corruption Case

(By the Associated Press)

TULSA, July 13.—The third day of the trial of J. A. Gustafson, suspended chief of police of Tulsa, opened with statements today, followed by speeches of testimony in which upward of 100 witnesses are expected to testify. Gustafson faces trial on four charges growing out of accusations of the recent race riot grand jury. One count was thrown out by District Judge Cole yesterday. It related to the alleged use of a private detective agency.

Attorney General Freeling is in charge of the prosecution.

ROAD BUILDING TO BE SHOWN TOMORROW

BARTLESVILLE TO FORM ITS OWN CURE MARKET BARTLESVILLE, July 13.—An attempt to produce a trade organization, the curb market, on a profitable basis, is being made here. Twice a week farmers and producers will bring their salable goods to an open block in the town, and the elimination of the middleman will be accomplished by selling at reasonable prices direct to the consumer.

NEXT THURSDAY SET FOR IRISH PEACE MEETING

Lloyd-George and DeValera
Will Confer at the Premier's Palace.

SMUTS HAILED LEADER Ireland Now Observing the Truce With Britain Is Advice.

LONDON, July 13.—The first meeting between Premier Lloyd-George and Eamonn De Valera, the Irish Republican leader, will be held at 4:30 p. m. Thursday at the premier's official residence, it was announced at the Sinn Fein headquarters here this afternoon. It is inferred that the conference is to be between the two men alone.

Mr. Lloyd-George went to his country home today accompanied by members of his staff. It is understood that he will see there some cabinet members and prepare his introductory remarks for the meeting with De Valera.

British officials who have been closely associated with Irish affairs during the recent past were said today to be preparing to join in the discussion with Sinn Fein delegates headed by Mr. De Valera. It is thought possible that General J. C. Smuts, premier of South Africa, would play a very definite role in the negotiations that are to take place. General Smuts is considered the man most responsible for the rapid development of peace moves in Ireland, and last week it was said that he might act as temporary chairman of the coming conference.

Reports from Ireland indicated that the truce arranged with the Irish, which became effective at noon Monday, was being observed.

Earl Is Returned. CORK, Ireland, July 13.—The Earl of Candon, who was kidnapped by Sinn Feiners early on the morning of July 21 was brought back to Bantry last night by his captors. The aged earl, for whose safety there has been some concern at times, was uninjured.

DUBLIN, July 13.—Large bodies of the police auxiliaries as a consequence of the truce in Ireland, have been granted indefinite leave of absence. The first batch of auxiliaries have already left for England.

ARMORE POST SALVAGES LIBRARY OF 2,000 VOLUMES

The verb "To Salvage" did not pass out of existence with the disbanding of the A. E. F. Its synonym "To manage" is still recognized as a part of the language by Legionnaires.

George R. Anderson Post No. 65 recently "salvaged" a library of 2,000 volumes. As in the army days when anything from a mess kit to a five ton truck might be acquired mysteriously with the simple explanation "We managed for it" or the equally expressive "We salvaged it," the post acquired the library.

During the war the people of Ardmore collected a large number of books to be shipped to army camps for the use of the soldiers. But after the volumes were collected and boxed they were never shipped. The boxes laid in a store room until discovered by a post member. Once discovered they were appropriated and will be installed in the club rooms of the post.

MAJOR, THE EDUCATED HORSE, HERE THIS WEEK

Prof. Perkins is now showing his famous "Country Arcua" in the vacant lot on Twelfth street, opposite the post office. Major, his educated horse, is one of the best known in the world, was formerly a vicious untamed brute. Under Prof. Perkins he has developed seemingly human sense. Prof. Perkins is also showing King, a brilliant Arabian pony, and one midget Shetland, also one wonderful dog. The show opens each evening at 8 o'clock and will continue each night this week. 7-13-11

NORMAL SENIORS GIVE PLAY TONIGHT Final arrangements have been made for the senior play to be given tonight in the Normal auditorium. Stage settings have been completed, furniture selected, and final rehearsals held. The cast is now resting for the final showing this evening, the curtain being scheduled to rise at 8:15. Special features added to the play will be several numbers by the Boy's Glee Club and the Normal school orchestra. It is also stated that several important announcements are to be made at this time.

Source of Wealth Combination Ideal

Wide Trade Territory, Adequate Railway Facilities, Rich Agricultural Lands and Natural Resources Make Opportunities Unexcelled.

COMBINED resources, unparalleled anywhere in the world, trade territory which is almost unlimited, shipping facilities adequate to meet every need, and united, solidly-progressive business men—these answer the question, "Why is Ada, Oklahoma, the industrial and business center of southeast Oklahoma?"

When the Creator finished with his handiwork in Pontotoc county and the surrounding territory, it must have been a source of great satisfaction to survey the wondrous country, beautiful to the last degree, yet containing within itself every essential for the development of manufacturing enterprises and industries the like of which cannot be found anywhere else in the world.

Beautiful forests of stately oak once covered the rolling hills around Ada with a green blanket which concealed these great storehouses for Nature's wealth, so bountifully stocked. With the coming of the hardy pioneer, rich lands were cleared and the foundation of Ada's wealth was laid in agriculture. Nature was good, for southeast Oklahoma farms are capable of producing the most diversified crops known. This is neither north nor south, neither east nor west. Cotton thrives and produces large yields and just across the fence a field of waving wheat, heavy with grain, grows equally as well. Corn and alfalfa, figs and grapes—in fact, any crop grown in the north and all those grown in the south, except the extreme tropical fruits, may be produced here.

And in line with the combination of diversified agriculture, diversified land is here. The sandy loam of the hillside is offset by the rich, black soil of the wide river valleys. What was once thought to be almost worthless sandy stretches, have been found to be the finest glass sand in the world, in quantities sufficient to supply the needs of an entire nation if necessary, and the rocky hillsides, instead of being worthless except for cattle pastures contain millions of tons of shale and limestone from which the largest portland cement plant in the world turns out great quantities of the most versatile building material known to man, while other hills are producing asphalt of the finest quality for road and street building, and still others furnish material for making bricks and crockery.

Ada Is Center.

It must have been through rare foresight and imagination that Ada, the present city of industry and business, was founded in the center of this rich territory. An artist must have selected the location for the city, for had he searched the state of Oklahoma over, a more beautiful location could not have been found. Nor is beauty the only advantage. Take a map of the state and draw a circle with Ada as the center, and include all territory within a radius of fifteen miles. Then note that it is the center of the greatest combination of nature's bounty ever known.

Within this circle will be great deposits of shale, limestone, asphalt, all kinds of clay, glass sand, one of the largest gas fields in the United States, oil fields, natural gravel, and many other resources.

Increase the radius of the circle, still using Ada as the central point, to include a radius of twenty-five miles. You will bring into this circle a greater amount of the same resources mentioned, but also include other oil and gas fields and great coal deposits, now being mined on a large scale.

With a red pencil follow out the lines of railways leading out of Ada in all directions, noting the central location of the city. In all directions shortest possible connections are made with all the great centers of commerce and industry, affording an easy market for the products manufactured in Ada and produced upon the farms within its territory.

Trade Territory Large.

Make special note of this trade territory. To the east, south, southeast and west, railway connections lead out of Ada into some of the richest country of Oklahoma, northern Texas, southeastern Arkansas and northwestern Louisiana. To the north the trade radius which belongs to Ada is not as extensive, as to the south, but is natural, because of the easy access of Ada and the topography of the country that Ada should have a wider trade radius in this territory than other cities, even nearer, in several instances.

Demand upon Ada from the territory to the south, southwest and west, have been growing as this territory has developed. Southwestern Oklahoma has had a greater growth than any other part of the state during the past ten years, census reports just made public by the United States census bureau show. While many counties in the western part of the state showed large decreases in population, the western, and especially the southwestern counties showed increases of 25 to 100 percent in population. When divided into classes, these reports show that the greatest gains in rural population were made in these southeastern counties.

Country which was passed over by the early pioneers, and which had been retarded in settlement by segregation as Indian lands, has been opened in these counties during recent years through the removal of restrictions upon Indians and the sale of the allotments to white farmers. Today the affairs of Indian tribes are being wound up, and almost the entire territory in the southwestern part of Oklahoma is being settled by industrious, hard working farmers. Production has been bounteous, for here there is neither drought nor floods, such as are encountered in many other parts of the state. Here any kind of crop will thrive, and markets are not at great distances.

Demand Increases.

These new settlers, or empire builders, if you will, must be supplied with the necessities of life, as well as the luxuries. Ada is the natural trading center for this territory, hence Ada's merchants, business men, and industries are called upon to meet this demand. It has meant increased business in every line in Ada.

Ada has handled this business, has built up great industries, wholesale houses, and mercantile establishments without undue effort, financial inflation or flurries, through its unity.

Ada's business men are a happy combination of progress and conservatism. They believe in anything which will uphold the city, the community and its territory. They believe in it so strongly that they are willing to open their pocketbooks and checkbooks to push along any good work. They contribute heavily to a chamber of commerce, to churches, schools and other community activities. They will aid any movement which will boost Ada.

But Ada business men do not believe in "wildcat promotion," theoretical schemes, or any business methods which are not sound and conservative. This class of men or concerns are not encouraged to come to Ada—they are rather, discouraged.

This is believed to be the secret of the success which is so notable among Ada business enterprises, and the reason these business interests have made Ada a solid, yet progressive, business city.

Glass Caskets Made in Big Ada Plant Are Marvel of Age

Finest Quality of Cut Glass Products Are Manufactured By Largest Factory West of Mississippi River.

That fine set of cut glass which is the pride of your home—where was it made? Ada, Oklahoma, probably.

These large globes which are the city's pride on the white way poles—where were they made? Ada, Oklahoma, chances are.

THE largest glass plant west of the Mississippi river, and the only plant which manufactures full-sized glass caskets is located at Ada, Oklahoma. It was established at Ada after a search of more than a year, for an ideal location. Here glass sand in sufficient quantity to keep the plant running for many years is found, and natural gas in never-failing supply is available for fuel at a low rate. Here shipping facilities are adequate to reach all points at reasonable freight charges.

This is the plant of the American Glass Casket company. While it specializes in all kinds of blown and cut glass products, it is now building up the most unique glass product ever turned out—a complete line of glass caskets.

Glass Caskets Perfected.

While many efforts have been made to produce a burial casket which would withstand the ravages of the elements for all time—forever—it has been conceded that but one substance will serve this purpose, and that is glass. Steel may rust away, cement crumbles and masonry is destroyed by the natural wearing away of time, but glass is impervious to decay and dust.

The difficulty has been that in moulding a piece of glass as large as a casket, no method has been found to prevent breaking and cracking. Glass makers have given up the task, and contented themselves with turning out small caskets for children.

Secretary and Treasurer.

C. V. Gowing, of the American Glass Casket company, and incidentally, one of Ada's biggest boosters, refused to believe that a process for making adult-sized caskets could not be perfected. He, with his expert workmen, have expended thousands of dollars in making moulds, building special machinery and glass furnaces for turning out these caskets. He has succeeded in making a casket which is the regulation adult-size, and is neither cracked nor chipped. When complete it is composed of but two pieces—the casket and its cover. These fit together with groove and tongue, and when cemented, form an hermetically sealed burial vault and casket in one which will last through the ages.

Process Is Difficult.

It has taken years to complete the process. It has taken hard work and patience. In the caskets produced are the largest single pieces of pressed glass in the world. In the plant are the largest glass press ever built, and of course, the largest moulds. These moulds are made of special material, costly in the extreme, and turned and machined to exact size by specially built lathes and machines. This glass press, for instance, develops a pressure of seventy tons and weighs more than 31,000 pounds. It is used to press the molten glass into the casket moulds.

Infinite care must be used in cooling the pressed caskets, to prevent cracking. The casts are slowly cooled through a specially constructed furnace, which gradually decreases the heat of the glass until it is turned out cold. This process requires many hours. Specially constructed machinery is necessary to handle the casts, since a completed casket weighs 300 pounds.

Cutters Are Artists.

Cut glass, the beauty of which is not surpassed in any factory of the world, is one of the principal products of this plant. Workmen whose artistry is supreme, are employed, and the product is so much in demand that one large wholesale house has contracted for the entire output yearly.

Making of cut glass is the most difficult of the glass industry, but it is done systematically here. All impurities must first be washed out of the silica sand, which is glass sand. This is then mixed in correct proportions with soda ash, which acts as a flux in melting, and powered limestone. Lead oxide is added to soften the glass and make it more pliable in working.

This mixture is first dumped into the glass furnaces, of which there are seven in the Ada plant. These furnaces have three compartments. In the first the mixture is melted by heat, applied up to 2,400 degrees, and this mass is then passed to the middle chamber, which is called the settling or purifying furnace. Impurities are drawn off and the pure glass in its gummy molten state, is passed into the final furnace ready for use.

Sticking his long iron pins into this molten glass, the glass blower stirs it around until a mass sticks to the pipe. Drawing this out he puts the end of the pipe into a mould which is the shape of the article to be made and, blows the hot glass into shape. This is then taken from the mould and put into an oven which cools it gradually.

In the cutting room, a design is drawn upon the glass, and fine-grained emery stones, revolving at high speed, used to cut the figures. Here is where the skill of the workman is developed to the finest degree. While the heavy pieces of glass such as punch bowls and pitchers require hours of grinding and still more hours of polishing and finishing with buffers and polishers, the most delicate work is done on the thin pieces, such as goblets, tumblers and cordial glasses.

Experts claim that the work of the Ada plant is superior in detail and artistic composition, to any produced either in the United States or foreign countries.

Capacity Is Large.

The American Glass Casket company employs more than 200 men, most of which are permanent residents of Ada, and a large percent of who own their homes here. Special attention has been given to recreation and rest rooms at the plant, and an enormous compressed air system keeps the plants cool. By the use of gas for fuel, no unnecessary heat is created, since the gas can be concentrated where needed most in the furnaces. Electric power is used to turn the machinery of the entire plant, this being supplied by a large electric dynamo run by a large gas engine in the plant. The plant covers more than seven and a half acres and has a floor space of 150,000 square feet.

Showing the large capacity of the establishment, it is noted that at one time one order for light shades and globes was turned out in a year with a total income of more than $181,000, besides the regular run of other articles made by the plant. Shades widely known as "Coleman's Shades" are the out put of the Ada factory.

Mr. Gowing, manager, is one of the leading business men and hustlers of this city of progress. To him goes the credit of building up, to a large degree, the present wide-awake Chamber of Commerce. He was president of this organization for two years, and devoted much time to making it a working organization and increasing the membership to practically twice its original size. He is now president of the Lions club, which is one of the dominant factors in the city's business life. From a membership of thirty-five, it has been built up to an organization with seventy members. Gowing is one of the big men of this city of big things.

Bee Culture Is a Profitable Sideline For Farm Families

Bee keeping is another industry that is carried on with great success by a small but increasing number of people. Several have fair sized apiaries and are constantly increasing the number of their colonies. Now that clover is becoming an important crop the honey yield is increasing at a most gratifying rate. A splendid exhibit of honey was on display at the county fair last year and as a result of the interest taken in it by the visitors, J. B. Hill, county demonstration agent, states that many farmers have this year secured from two to half a dozen colonies and he looks for still more to take it up next year. When one considers that growers have received 35c and even more in Ada for their product this year and that even then only a fraction of the demand was supplied, he can realize the possibilities of this business.

It has been demonstrated that any fruit that grows in Texas on the south or Kansas on Missouri on the north thrives in Pontotoc county. Several men have made a success in raising apples, grapes, pears, crabapples, plums, cherries, berries and a number of other fruits. It is not a matter of experiment. It is a demonstrated fact that it all does well here.

An then the poultry business is one that needs not be despised. The first poultry show held in Ada was considered excellent, but when compared with the birds of today that show was really a joke. However, it served its purpose well. People sat up an took notice and improved their flocks until today there is seldom a show at Oklahoma City, Muskogee, Fort Worth, Kansas City or other place of importance that does not find Pontotoc county fowls winning high honors. One farm near Ada has won a fame extending far beyond the borders of the state for the fine chickens and eggs produced.

Every breed has its particular advocates and all are doing well. The same applies to other fowls, especially turkeys. Occasionally a car of chickens is shipped from the county, but too many are neglecting this source of revenue to make this as common as it should be. The same applies to eggs. The local demand is always brisk and the outside markets always open.

Such are a few realities of the agricultural interests of Pontotoc county. It offers every inducement to the industrious and enterprising classes of citizenship that is needed to develop any county fully. Land values are still reasonable and this will be the last stand of low priced real estate. As one extensive land buyer expressed it, "you raise more cattle and you can raise more horses, but you can't raise more land." Another ten years will see this section in line with the most prosperous in the United States. Our citizens are seeking new ideas and profiting by them. Times of depression will come occasionally, but no one ever saw them last permanently in a place with the resources with which nature endowed Pontotoc county. With good soil, an innumerable variety of crops, dairying, stock raising and fruit growing what more could the most exacting ask?

J. W. Balthrop and J. W. Rayburn of Ada, J. J. Townsend of Franks, Carl Solomon of Vanoss and R. W. Allen of Ada are men who are making a success bee keeping on an extensive scale. Many others have a small number of hives and are finding the bees highly profitable.

E. T. Pendleton states that he has about 100 young bronze turkeys coming on. He is eating roasting ears from corn planted the first of July. It was just ordinary corn and is making a fair crop in spite of the fact that only one rain has fallen on it.

GIFT OF THE SEA

By CLARISSA MACKIE.

(© 1921, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

"I'm sorry, Ben. Mother and I are ashamed of the way Daisy has behaved—expecting to marry you in the winter and now running away with that traveling salesman from Boston—yes, the minister at Tuiose married them that afternoon, and now as long's they're married and he is her husband, why we've got to make the best of it. But we'd a hull sight rather Daisy had married you—what can I say to comfort you, Ben?"

"Don't worry about me, Mr. Brewer," he said, extending a big brown hand. "It's a hard blow—if Daisy had only told me she didn't love me I would have freed her at once, but don't you and Mrs. Brewer fret about it—it will come out all right in the end."

"You're a son to be proud of, Ben," said the older man hoarsely as he went away.

Ben paused with his hand on the painter of the lighthouse motorboat. The smile had faded and there was only the grimness left on his face. The boat was laden with supplies for the lighthouse, standing clean and white at the end of the long shoal two miles from the mainland. Ben was assistant keeper there, and he and Daisy had planned an idyllic life in their sea-bound home—but it was not to be. Therefore, the lighthouse looked colder and lonelier than ever as his boat dashed across the bay. He might have been jilted every day of the week for all the emotion he showed when he mounted the stairs to the cozy living room and told his uncle and aunt the news.

Days, weeks and months went by and Ben Raymond found that time was a little solace.

"I expect some day I'll be darned glad it happened," he told himself savagely, as he polished the brasses and cleaned the big lenses.

It was a wild autumn, with raging seas and furious winds that shook the building to its foundation. Folks ashore arose in the night and looked off toward Sands Light to see if some giant sea had not swept it away, but nothing happened until Christmas week, when a blinding snowstorm held the country in thrall and the friendly beams of Sands Light could scarcely be seen.

"What's that?" bellowed the keeper above the noise of the horn.

"Sea gulls—poor critters," muttered Ben.

"Sounds like a cry—" The two men rushed to a window and looked out. At first nothing could be seen but the smothering cloud of snowflakes. There was no sign of an unfortunate vessel bearing toward the shoal or the signal fires of the life saving station—yes, there were the fires miles below at Kitticut Beach—the life savers were out tonight. Off Kitticut Beach were the black rocks where another light was placed. But still came that insistent cry that seemed timed to sound whenever the foghorn paused.

"It's on the shoal below—maybe someone from the wreck off Kitticut," shouted Ben and he pulled on his oilskins.

"You'll be drowned!" warned his aunt. "But you've got to go, Benny."

For the first time since his broken engagement Ben laughed outright. He kissed his aunt and made for the lower floor. Half an hour afterward he brought up one by one four people, three women and one man, survivors from the wreck of the ship at Kitticut, who had been put into a small boat and had drifted to the friendly shelter of Sand Shoal. They were all warmly dressed and after the keeper and his family had worked over them for hours and put them to bed they slept all through the next day and in more or less degrees of stiffness, came down to supper.

Two of the women were stewardesses on board the wrecked steamer, while the third was a passenger, a girl of twenty, with eyes like brown pansies wet with dew and the most appealing smile Ben had ever seen. She was evidently in moderate circumstances, and it developed that she was on her way from Boston to another city to find work. The only man from the wrecked boat was a cook who could speak little English, but gave a lusty hand in helping Ben reach the life saving station.

The two women and the cook went away the following day, but the girl, who had lost all her belongings in the wreck, stayed on at Aunt Hannah's suggestion. "I need a light hand to help me with the work," said the astute old lady.

So Marjorie Lee stayed on, and helped a good deal, and they all grew so fond of her that they would not let her go. She was an orphan, and she had grown to love the sturdy keeper and his sweet wife, and as for Ben, he was a hero in her shy eyes.

"You are my gift from the sea, Marjorie," he told her one night when they watched the stars together from a window on the narrow staircase. This was in June and the stars were soft and the breeze was very tender with these lovers.

"No, dear, I give myself to you, but the sea did help us a lot, didn't it?" and she blew a kiss out to the calm waters in memory of that snowy night six months before. That is the way Ben won a bride and brought her to his isolated home, and their happiness threatens to outshine Sand Shoal light itself.

"VAMPS" WHO MADE HISTORY By JAMES C. YOUNG.

(© by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)
A NOBLE ENGLISH VAMPIRE.

THREE of England's dukes are direct descendants of Frances Howard, born in 1593, and one of the few English women who may be truly called vampires. Her father was the earl of Suffolk, and at the age of thirteen he married her to the earl of Essex, a year older. But she did not live with him until 1611, though in the meantime she had become mistress to the earl of Somerset, favorite of King James I.

Frances dabbled with soothsayers and one of these, a Mrs. Turner, got into trouble. She made it known that Frances had considered poisoning her husband, whom she hated. The matter was hushed up and Frances procured annulment of her wedding ties. Then she promptly married the earl of Somerset. Sir Thomas Overby, the earl's friend, earned her undying hatred by opposing the match. Frances schemed to have him imprisoned in the tower of London. Then she set out to poison him. Sir Thomas was aware of the plot against his life and took antidotes which offset the poisons given to him in food. So strong was his constitution that it seemed he never would die. But finally the end came. Then new honors were showered upon Frances and her husband. Despite this, retribution was near. A new favorite arose at court, the ugly stories of Overby's end were whispered everywhere. Weston, the keeper who had been responsible for the death of Overby, was arrested and confessed. He was hanged, then Sir Gervase Helwys, lieutenant of the tower, met the same fate. Mrs. Turner, who had a hand in the plot, also went to the scaffold, along with the apothecary who mixed the poisons.

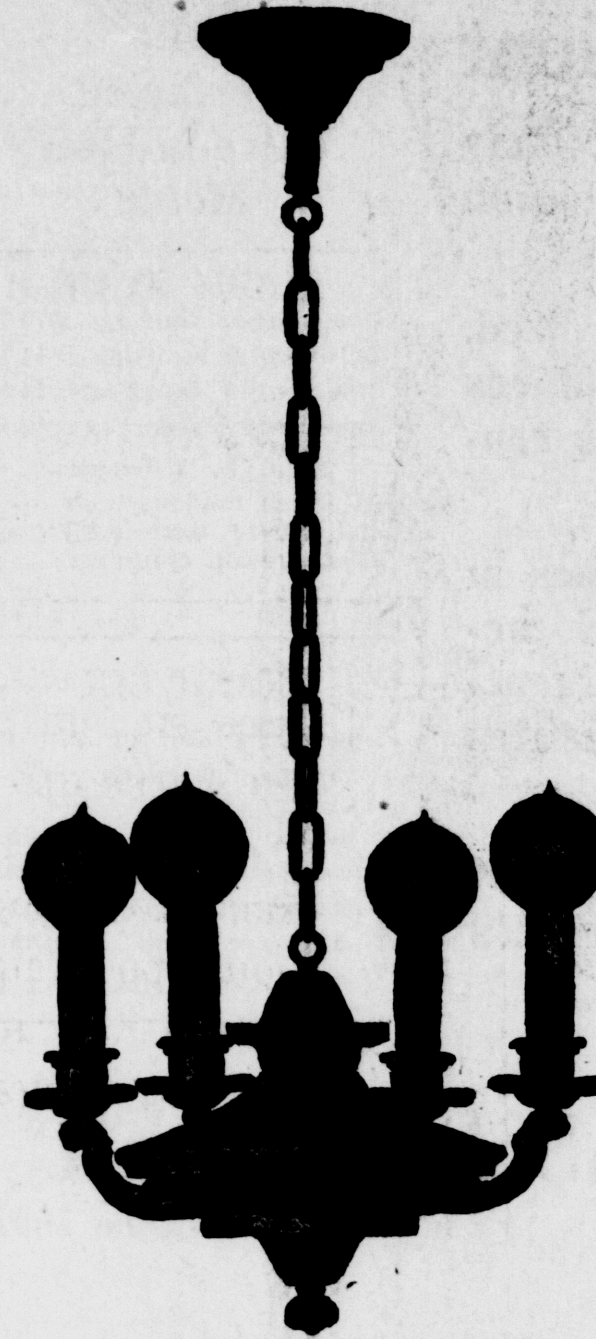

The earl of Somerset and Frances were tried and condemned. It seemed that both were to pay the heaviest price which the law could exact, but the power of their families finally won a pardon for them, and although their estates were confiscated, each received a pension and the right to life, when four of the lesser guilty ones had been executed. They were forbidden to stay in London and made to fix their residence at a country place. Perhaps this was the severest penalty that could have been inflicted for Frances grew to hate the man whom she had loved with such infatuation, and he saw in her only the instrument of his disgrace and the tool of fate which had led to the murder of his friend. The last years of Frances were filled with tragedy and remorse. She died at thirty-nine, leaving an infamous memory behind her.

EAGLE SCOUTS DUBER 200 Badges are Awarded Boys for Merit Work in Troops.

Scores of townspeople flocked to the city reservoir at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon to witness the opening of the new Boy Scout lodge, presented troops of Ada by the Lions Club and citizens of the town.

Three Eagle scouts, the highest rank obtainable in the organization, were dubbed during the ceremony. These are the first Eagle scouts in the county. More than 200 merit badges and first and second class badges were awarded. Presentation of the new scout bungalow near the city reservoir was a feature of the program.

All parents, relatives and friends of the boys were invited out for the ceremony and more than 300 people gathered around the lodge to witness the presentation of badges, new scout home. Much interest was shown in the presenting of this home to the boys, it being one of the greatest events the Ada scouts have ever had opportunity to take part in.

Judge Orel Busby, president of the Boy Scout Council for the county, presided at the opening. In the absence of C. V. Gowing, president of the Lions club, Mr. Busby spoke briefly on the attitude of the Lions in lending their money and efforts in obtaining things for the boys. Cal Sparks, who has been active in Ada scout work, was present to announce the winners in the Twelfth street park contest. These prizes were athletic goods.

M. F. Manville, Rev. C. C. Morris, L. A. Ellison, R. W. Simpson, Scoutmaster D. T. Bradsaw, Walter Gowing and W. A. Hill were other speakers on the program who took part in the presentation of badges. Many mothers and sisters of scouts witnessed the ceremony.

M. F. Manville had charge of awarding first and second class badges to the boys. Those getting first class badges were Charles Perry, Donald Wilmoth, Frank Norris, Glen Potts, George Goddard, Verdale Shaffer, Wayne Kidd, Brown Mackin, Charles Bowman. Scouts getting second class badges were Karl Houston, William Cooper, Loran Stafford, Clifton, Elliot, Dan Proctor and Jeter Sprad.

Eagle Scouts Named.

Three boys had obtained the highest ranking honor the Boy Scout organization provides, the Eagle Scout. They are Drew Page, Richard Simpson, and Russell McAlister. Badges were awarded them yesterday afternoon with proper ceremonies by R. W. Simpson, head of the court of honor.

Two hundred and thirty-five merit badges were awarded to 26 boys, the scoutmaster of each troop presenting them. Those receiving badges of merit were Terry Manville, George Goddard, Glen Potts, Chas. Perry, Harvey Faust, Harold Allen, Drew Page, Junius Kidding, Russell McAlister, Richard Simpson, Dean Spencer, Morris Spencer, Frank Norris, Henry Roach, Brown Mackin, William Roach, Renfro Herndon, Donald Wilmoth, Ben Page, Joe Hargis, Carl Spangler, Rwayne Kidd, Charles Harwell, Verdale Shaffer and Tom Steed.

Two boys were awarded the Life and Star scout badges, the latter being next in rank to the Eagle Scout. They were Harold Allen and Tom Steed.

Park Winner Announced.

Winners in the park contest were as follows: Troop 5, first place; Troop 3, second place; and Troop 1, third place. The winner in the badge contest was Troop 1, this troop having won by a big majority of efficiency points. Music was furnished by the Boy Scout band.

It was reported today that the scout lodge would be paid for by scout pledges for the year were run one month longer than the scout budget provides. It was through the efforts of the Boy Scout Council that Prof. W. A. Hill, leader of the band, was induced to stay in Ada this summer.

Milk for the lodge opening dinner was furnished by the Plainview dairy.

STIFLING WAVES OF HEAT SETTLE

Chicago Is Baking Today and Prostrations Are Feared.

(By the Associated Press)

CHICAGO, July 13.—The unvarying forecast is "continued warm" with the central west today broiling in the heat wave that has been almost unbroken for three weeks. Temperatures in scores of cities ranged from 85 to 105 degrees, and in some of the larger places industries have been suspended until showers or cooling winds sweep away the humid oppressiveness.

Baking streets in downtown Chicago promised heat prostrations today although the upper reach of office buildings and apartments gained respite from light breezes straight off Lake Michigan.

Reports from the vacation havens of Wisconsin and Minnesota indicate little joy for tourists. Green Bay only announced that a shower brought the temperature down from 99 to 74 degrees.

Iowa cities found no surcease of the heat from local showers last night. One city reported 103 yesterday and 88 this morning.

HARDING WRITES ABOUT OIL DUTY

Fordney Blamed for Not Giving Message to the House.

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 13.—Chairman Fordney of the ways and means committee informed the house today that he had received a letter from President Harding relating to the proposed duty on oil in the tariff bill. He said it would be presented later, probably during consideration of the oil schedule. The letter was not for publication.

Reference was made to the president's letter by Representative Byrnes of South Carolina. Demanding that the chairman when the debate on the bill reopened to say whether the text as given the public was correct.

"I have not read what has been published," Mr. Fordney said.

"Well, the letter has been appearing and you have not given it to the house. The house ought to know who did it," Mr. Byrnes said, adding that the published text quoted the president as "protesting against taking oil from off the free list."

EDITOR'S CHAIR OF FAMOUS WOOD GIVEN HARDING

WASHINGTON, July 13.—A high back "editorial chair" presented to President Harding by more than 600 newspaper editors was added today to the furnishings of the presidential study in the White House. It was made of wood from the famous old schooner Revenge, captured from the British on Lake Champlain during the Revolutionary war and was presented through a committee headed by Ernest F. Birmingham of the fourth estate.

Senator Capper of Kansas, publisher of the Topeka Capital, was selected to make the presentation speech and another member of the committee of 75 which arranged for the presentation was James M. Cox, publisher of the Dayton News and Mr. Harding's democratic opponent for the presidency last year.

OFFICERS RENEW HUNT FOR TWO STOLEN CARS

Although they continued their diligent search for any clue that would lead to the detection of the person or persons who may be connected with automobile robbery in the county recently, nothing that smacked of a clue had been turned up today, County Sheriff Bob Duncan said.

Two men are now being held under bond on charges of stealing a car and others will be taken into custody when information is supplied, officers declared. Reluctant to give up in the hunt for two cars which have been stolen in the city in the last week, one of which belonged to the sheriff himself, both police and the sheriff's force renewed their vigilance today and scattered information of the robberies together with descriptions of the two cars stolen, broadcast over the entire state.

AMERICA NOT TO URGE ARMISTICE DAY FOR PARLEY

United States Will Wait
Until All Replies Are Received.

LONDON CONSIDERED But Little Doubt Exists That Washington Will Be Central Point.

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 13.—Great Britain's favorable reply to President Harding's invitation for an international conference on reduction of armament and far eastern questions had reached the state department today, having been preceded by that of France. The nature of the communication was not disclosed beyond its favorable character.

The replies of the other powers, Italy, Japan, and China, are expected shortly.

It has been indicated that the selection of Armistice Day, November 11, as the opening day for the session to be held in Washington, was not to be pressed until all the replies are in hand.

Press reports from London that the holding of the conference as to Pacific questions in the British capital instead of Washington was being suggested there, were not taken seriously in British circles here.

Secretary Hughes conferred with the president at the white house early today.

High School Work Given by O. U. In New Mail Courses

(By the Associated Press)

NORMAN, July 13.—(Special)—High school courses in every branch except science have been added to the curriculum of the correspondence department of the Oklahoma University of Oklahoma, in order to enable high school students in small unaccredited schools of the state to complete the four-year course and enter a standard college or university without entrance examinations or working off extra hours as entrance requirements.

About thirty courses have been added, and although the courses were put in only a week ago, already 26 students have enrolled from five different schools. In September when schools start the term's work, it is expected that students from almost every unaccredited school in the state will enroll in the university correspondence courses. Numerous inquiries from all parts of the state have already been received.

Arrangements are that high school students may first complete the two or three years work which their school offers and then take the rest by correspondence, or that they may carry on correspondence courses at the same time they are doing residence work in their high schools.

In some school districts this work is managed by the district paying the enrollment fee for students and hiring one extra teacher who supervises the correspondence courses. But other plans are also being worked out.

LIVE STOCK POOL WILL BE STARTED EARLY NEXT WEEK

(By the Associated Press)

CHICAGO, July 13.—The $50,000,000 livestock pool subscribed by bankers in recent conferences here and in New York will be in operation by next Monday, July 18, according to Everett C. Brown, president of the National Livestock Exchange. M. L. McClure, a banker, will direct the pool, with offices in Chicago.

No direct loans will be made by the pool corporation, Mr. Brown announced, because the corporation has no machinery for investigating proposed loans. The loans will be made through local bank and cattle loan companies.

Miami Votes Bonds.

MIAMI, July 13.—By a substantial majority the taxpayers of Miami yesterday at a special election approved a bond issue of $40,000 for the purchase of additional public park ground and the building of a convention hall or agricultural display building.

SCHOOLS EAGER FOR HIGH LEVY

One Board Votes Maximum
in Annual Meeting
Tuesday.

Fifty-eight school districts, scattered through Pontotoc county, held their annual meetings yesterday to wind up unfinished business of the year, clear their slates for the new fiscal year, and make up their annual expense budgets.

All went into session at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon in accordance with a program sent out by County Superintendent A. Floyd and will forward at once a report of their sessions to the superintendent. Only a few districts had reported this morning. Mr. Floyd said, though many are expected to have their reports filed before tomorrow night.

Enthusiasm for a high mill levy for the support of school districts was indicated in the few reports that came into the office yesterday afternoon and this morning, the superintendent said. In one case, a district which did not understand terms of the bill passed by the last state legislature, voted 25 mills, the maximum under any circumstances. The act provides that the governor may call a special election for the voting of the maximum of 25 mills at the request of the schools. Such election has not been called and this district may have to resign its action, the superintendent said.

May Lower Levies.

The county excise board can lower school mills if they appear unreasonable but cannot raise them in case the districts vote them too low, it was pointed out.

In practically every district of the county, satisfactory levies will be made for schools, it is anticipated. The fact that one district wished to go the limit may be taken as an indication of the general good school spirit of the county, the superintendent said, adding that no district could be blamed for such a mistake since books containing the new state session laws have not been issued for the information of school districts and boards. These books are supposed to arrive about November 1 and will be distributed broadcast over the county.

MEETING CALLED TO ADOPT PLANS

Joint Committee to Meet at
Normal This Week on Memorial.

Committees working on plans for the East Central Memorial Arch probably will be called together the last of this week to pass on drawings and take final steps preparatory to starting the arch, Dr. A. Linscheid, president of the Normal and chairman of committees, announced at noon today.

Although subscriptions to the arch now reach $2,585.95, the total easily will run over the $3000 mark before the end of the week, Dr. Linscheid said.

"The present amount does not include my own subscription," President Linscheid stated.

Two committees, one representing the Ada Lions Club and the other counties represented in the Normal district, are working on the arch proposition. Members of the Lions committee are R. W. Simpson, Byron Sledge, and W. C. Duncan. Those on the other committee are Supt. F. L. Stewart of Okmulgee, Supt. E. B. Herring of Wynnewood, and Supt. Faust of Shawnee. These committees have elected E. C. Wilson, librarian at the Normal, as secretary, and President Linscheid as chairman.

"The committees did not deem it advisable to continue pushing plans for the arch and raising more money until we settle on architects' specifications and know what the Memorial arch will cost," said Mr. Linscheid. It is understood, however, that with the meeting of committees the last of this week definite action leading up to starting the arch will be taken.

MRS. KABER GETS HYSTERICAL WHEN BROTHER GOES ON

(By the Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, July 13.—Mrs. Eva Katherine Kaber, became hysterical while her brother, Charles Brickell, was testifying this morning, in her trial for the murder of her husband, and screamed wildly until she slipped to the floor prostrate.

The court was thrown into such an uproar that proceedings were temporarily interrupted. Women spectators stood wringing their hands as the prisoner's shrieks pierced the air. Order was restored when Judge Herson admonished the gallery to sit down. Mrs. Kaber was finally carried out by the bailiff.

THREE NATIONS ACCEPT OFFER ON CONFERENCE

Great Britain, France, and Italy Agree to Meet
on Disarming.

CHINA IS INTERESTED Japan Is Slow to Take Up American Proposal But May Act Soon.

(By the Associated Press)

LONDON, July 13.—Three of the principal allied nations, Great Britain, France and Italy, have officially signified their acceptance of President Harding's invitation to hold a conference on limitation of armament, while China has stated that she is ready to participate in a conference relating to far eastern affairs. Japan is the only one of the allies which has not recorded herself as being ready to take part in the Washington conference, but it is expected in official circles here that her acceptance will be communicated to the United States government soon.

In governmental circles in this city it appears to be the consensus of opinion that the meeting at Washington will be attended by some of the most prominent statesmen of the world. The announcement of Premier Briand of France that he would consider going to Washington was followed by indications that Premier Lloyd-George might also go, providing conditions in Great Britain are such as to permit his extended absence from that country. It is expected, however that some of the leading figures in British official life will be present.

Pageant Will Cover 300 Years Interval of Country's History

(By the Associated Press)

PLYMOUTH, Mass., July 13.—Notwithstanding that 300 years have passed since the Pilgrim Fathers landed, no difficulty was encountered in finding descendants of those who came in the Mayflower for the cast of the pageant to be presented here tonight as a feature of the Pilgrim Tercentenary celebrations.

Among the principals for speaking or pantomimic roles in the spectacle, which requires 1200 actors, are Miles Standish Alden, descendant of John Alden, Grayton Howland, descendant of John Howland, and Edward Winslow Bradford, Jr., and George Webster Dyer. John Delano, descendant of Philippe De La Noix, the French colon who came to Plymouth in 1700 also has a part. In one scene in the pageant Mayflower descendants only will take the parts of first settlers.

OKLAHOMA CITY GIRL NAMED AS SECRETARY

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 13.—An announcement was made here today that Miss Bessie Newsom of this city had been appointed executive secretary of the Democratic Women's Voters League with headquarters in Washington. Miss Newsom was active in Oklahoma during the presidential campaign last fall and was well known in democratic circles. As executive secretary of the national organization she will be in charge of league activities throughout the country.

Enid Man Given Tar and Feather Coat By Angry Crowd

(By the Associated Press)

ENID, July 13.—Walter Billings, son of Mrs. M. Billings, wealthy real estate and theatrical owner of Enid, was taken from an automobile near the Rock Island depot last night by several masked men, conveyed to a lonely spot on a country road near town, whipped, tarred and feathered. He was then returned to town and set free, clad only in his trousers and a coat of tar and feathers.

The whipping was the outgrowth of alleged domestic troubles in young Billings' family, according to the police.

Billings reported the whipping to the police department upon his return to the city last night. The chief of police is conducting an investigation with a view of learning the identity of the whipping party.

NO TRACE YET FOUND OF ESCAPED PRISONERS

TULSA, July 13.—No trace had been found early today of the five prisoners who escaped from the city jail last night. One of the escaped men was Frank Hays, federal prisoner, charged with conveying liquor and complicity in automobile thefts. It is believed that they fought their way to freedom.

HUN DESTROYER SUNK BY PLANE

Bombers Rain Down Attack
On German G-102 in
First Test.

(By the Associated Press)

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., July 13.—The German destroyer G-102 was sunk at 10:40 today by army bombing planes from Langley field. The destroyer, anchored at sea off the Virginia capes, was sent down by bombs rained down from the Martin bombing planes that led the attack. Reports to Langley field said the big De Havilland planes did not have a chance at the target. No problem of locating the target was involved.

Thirty-five army air planes took part in the experiment. The airman were led by Brigadier General Mitchell, assistant chief of the air service, and represented the first test of army machines in the joint bombing tests operating with the navy forces against former German warcraft. The test today was to demonstrate the effect of land planes operating at sea against surface craft.

COURT IS DRAWN INTO LONG TERM

County Officers Labor to
Speed Up Docket But
Cases Are Slow.

Legal technicalities drew out the county court yesterday, and in spite of efforts of the county to run off the criminal docket as quickly as possible, it was clearly evident today that the grind would be prolonged for some time, officers said.

After a long session on county criminal charges, the court will be forced to enter a sweating sitting on the city appeal docket which is laden with smaller cases. The court continued yesterday its sitting on liquor charges and in the case of the state vs. Lee Rains and Will Large on a charge of transporting intoxicating liquors, the defendants were found not guilty and discharged.

The court has encountered some difficulty in getting negro defendants into court, County Judge Tal Crawford said today. To eliminate some trouble for the county sheriff's office, a copy of the criminal docket for the July session of the county court will be made and posted in "dark town" for the special notice of those who are to appear as defendants and witnesses, he intimated.

Tulsa Chief Enters Third Day of Trial in Corruption Case

(By the Associated Press)

TULSA, July 13.—The third day of the trial of J. A. Gustafson, suspended chief of police of Tulsa, opened with statements today, followed by speeches of testimony in which upward of 100 witnesses are expected to testify. Gustafson faces trial on four charges growing out of accusations of the recent race riot grand jury. One count was thrown out by District Judge Cole yesterday. It related to the alleged use of a private detective agency. Attorney General Freeling is in charge of the prosecution.

ROAD BUILDING TO BE SHOWN TOMORROW

The people of this county will have an opportunity Thursday morning to witness a modern road building machine at work. Starting at 9 o'clock at the post office at Ada, the Avery company will give demonstrations in street and road building with their one man combination of tractor and road machine.

BARTLESVILLE TO FORM
ITS OWN CURE MARKET

BARTLESVILLE, July 13.—An attempt to produce a trade organization, the curb market, on a profitable basis, is being made here. Twice a week farmers and producers will bring their salable goods to an open block in the town, and the elimination of the middleman will be accomplished by selling at reasonable prices direct to the consumer.

NEXT THURSDAY SET FOR IRISH PEACE MEETING

Lloyd-George and DeValera
Will Confer at the Premier's Palace.

SMUTS HAILED LEADER Ireland Now Observing the Truce With Britain Is Advice.

LONDON, July 13.—The first meeting between Premier Lloyd-George and Eamonn De Valera, the Irish Republican leader, will be held at 4:30 p. m. Thursday at the premier's official residence, it was announced at the Sinn Fein headquarters here this afternoon. It is inferred that the conference is to be between the two men alone.

Mr. Lloyd-George went to his country home today accompanied by members of his staff. It is understood that he will see there some cabinet members and prepare his introductory remarks for the meeting with De Valera.

British officials who have been closely associated with Irish affairs during the recent past were said today to be preparing to join in the discussion with Sinn Fein delegates headed by Mr. De Valera. It is thought possible that General J. C. Smuts, premier of South Africa, would play a very definite role in the negotiations that are to take place. General Smuts is considered the man most responsible for the rapid development of peace moves in Ireland, and last week it was said that he might act as temporary chairman of the coming conference.

Reports from Ireland indicated that the truce arranged with the Irish, which became effective at noon Monday, was being observed.

Earl Is Returned.

CORK, Ireland, July 13.—The Earl of Candon, who was kidnapped by Sinn Feiners early on the morning of July 21 was brought back to Bantry last night by his captors. The aged earl, for whose safety there has been some concern at times, was uninjured.

Police Granted Leave.

DUBLIN, July 13.—Large bodies of the police auxiliaries as a consequence of the truce in Ireland, have been granted indefinite leave of absence. The first batch of auxiliaries have already left for England.

ARMORE POST SALVAGES LIBRARY OF 2,000 VOLUMES

The verb "To Salvage" did not pass out of existence with the disbanding of the A. E. F. Its synonym "To manage" is still recognized as a part of the language by Legionnaires.

George R. Anderson Post No. 65 recently "salvaged" a library of 2,000 volumes. As in the army days when anything from a mess kit to a five-ton truck might be acquired by a veteran with the simple explanation "We managed for it" or the equally expressive "We salvaged it," the post acquired the library.

During the war the people of Ardmore collected a large number of books to be shipped to army camps for the use of the soldiers. But after the volumes were collected and boxed they were never shipped. The boxes laid in a store room until discovered by a post member. Once discovered they were appropriated and will be installed in the club rooms of the post.

MAJOR, THE EDUCATED HORSE HERE THIS WEEK

Prof. Perkins is now showing his famous "Country circus" in the vacant lot on Twelfth street, opposite the post office. Major, his educated horse, is one of the best known in the world, was formerly a vicious untamed brute. Under Prof. Perkins he has developed seemingly human sense. Prof. Perkins is also showing King, a brilliant Arabian pony and one midget Shetland, also one wonderful dog. The show opens each evening at 8 o'clock and will continue each night this week.

ADA'S SCHOOL BUILDINGS

The completion of the new school building in the south-western part of the city rounds out Ada's school equipment and makes it one of the best in the entire country. With five ward buildings, all modern, and one high school building, equipped to handle all the branches efficiently, we can point to our attempts to give the young people the best there is and feel proud of the attainment.

One of the reasons the West has builded faster than the East is the importance given to schools. When people came to Oklahoma and called it home, they realized that to have a desirable citizenship that citizenship must be educated. Then, too, they realized that a city cannot grow in these modern days without much attention being given to schools and school buildings. So it has happened that almost without exception the states west of the Alleghany mountains have better school buildings and often times better teachers than the older settled communities.

We should feel proud of our school buildings. We should encourage in every way possible the teachers and the pupils. We should attend their entertainments, should go now and then to see the actual working of the school system, and should ever be ready to assist Superintendent Hickman and the school board in their efforts.

The new building in many respects is the best in the city. It is practically fireproof. The rooms are so arranged that the light is sufficient and the ventilation all that could be desired.

We should determine never to let the city get ahead of the school system and that sufficient buildings will be provided at all times for the training of the boys and girls who are to take our places in a few years.

SELF-CONTROL

It's a wonderful thing, this self-control. It makes or breaks men. It gives men with very mediocre ability top places on the ladder of fame and the lack of it causes brilliant men to fade quickly from sight, after a few brief years or months of dazzling scintillation before the public eye.

We have in mind a prize fighter, who, critics once agreed upon, would be a world's champion one day, if he would only learn to control his private life and habits. Manager after manager tried to take him in tow and handle him. One by one they gave him up in disgust. Today he is fighting as a ham-and-beaner and using 'dope' to get by, too.

We have in mind another man—a baseball pitcher with a brilliant future ahead of him. He had, apparently, everything desirable in a major league slab artist but perfect control over his private life and morals. After a few trials he landed in the back lot and is still going there strong, when he's sober.

We could recite a tale as long as the Encyclopedia Britannica about men, who had the stuff and only lacked self-control, and, who are today, at the bottom of the ladder. No matter what your native abilities are, if you lack that spark of self-control, you're doomed beforehand to failure. Look yourself over, be honest with yourself and see how your self-control is. You can improve it, if you really want to and if you really want to succeed you'll have to do it; for without that there is nothing permanent and lasting.—Bartlesville Examiner.

With a million men searching for ways to build highways at a minimum cost, some one ought to find the way. With modern machines capable of tearing down mountains or filling oceans, we ought to learn to construct highways at a reasonable price. Anyway we must get the highways.

Now that the Boy Scouts have a home on the lake, we hope they will use it frequently. Outdoor and clean living makes lads strong and able to fight the battles of life. Knowledge of woodcraft, forests, birds, fish and other features of the great outdoors is desirable.

Building is lively in Ada, in spite of depressed business conditions. Ada has never entirely stopped growing and building under present conditions shows that it is founded upon a rock and the winds and storms do not wreck it.

Did it ever occur to you that a person in a city can drive his car a year with one-fourth the damage he would have, were he driving over rough country roads? Moral: Get good roads in the country.

What has become of William Hohenzollern. What has become of the Crown Prince? Men who build their reputation on a false base cannot expect to stand.

Let her fry. They say corn is practically assured and hot weather will make it tough on Mr. Boll Weevil.

A war on the Pacific might keep it from being so.

SEEMS TO OBJECT TO BEING "SADDLED UP"!

The Editor of the Press

Comments given below do not of necessity reflect the opinion of the News. In fact, oftentimes the opinion expressed is directly opposite to that held by the News. The opinions are given, however, because this is a newspaper.

"The Greatest of These"
Chickasha Express: "Kind hearts are more than coronets."
Kind hearts are sympathetic hearts, sharing in the joys and sorrows of all humanity.

Kind hearts prompt their possessors to extending helpful hands to all "sorts and conditions of men" good and bad, friend and stranger, rich and poor—because they throb with the emotions which are distinctly human.

Because they understand the strength and the weaknesses of human nature; because they realize that "none are perfect, no not one" and that the best of us have faults which fill us with chagrin when we are frank with ourselves, they who have kind hearts pronounce no hasty, harsh judgments upon their fellow-men.

The kind-hearted take into consideration all the varied circumstances of birth, environment and experience which make men differ in their mental and moral make-up and points of view. That is why they are tolerant in opinion and have no wish to crucify those who do not agree with them and why they can respect and even honor men whose views are opposed to their own. Kindness of heart in this sense grows out of broad-mindedness and without the latter it cannot exist. Bigotry and narrowness are inconsistent with big heartedness.

He whose heart is warm with human kindness will find busy himself with removing the "beam" from his own eye before devoting his efforts assiduously to plucking the "mote" out of his brother's eye because he knows that is his big job in this life.

The man whose name is revered by the millions who call themselves Christians, and who performed for mankind a constructive service the magnitude of which cannot be measured, had a heart which pulsated in sympathy with all humanity. The human touch, which comes only from a heart of kindness, is still the world's great need; it is what makes us better neighbors, better citizens, and it is what will make us human beings who will help each other in the solution of all problems, individual and social.

The charity which is defined as "love of mankind" not only covers but also corrects a "multitude of faults" and makes for a better community, state and nation. It is not a flat emanating from arbitrary authority but a law based upon the nature and needs of humanity which says "Love thy neighbor as thyself."

The world cannot be saved by criticizing, condemning and crucifying men but it can be saved by the service which springs from kind hearts.

PAID FANCY PRICES

"I paid an international authority on diseases of the stomach $1,500 and he didn't do me five cents' worth of good. I have been to various Spas in Europe, as well as this country and have spent fully $30,000 fruitlessly in search of a cure for my stomach trouble. Naturally I lost faith in any remedy for my case. My wife's brother had taken May's Wonderful Remedy and praised it so highly that I tried it and am now entirely rid of that trouble. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Sold by Gwin & Mays and Druggists everywhere. (adv.)

GOVERNMENT TO MAKE STUDY OF RED RIVER

(By the Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 13.—John A. Fain, special assistant to the United States attorney general, will leave Wednesday night for the Red River districts to join government geologists and surveyors at Burkburnett, Texas, in the work of taking evidence in the Red River case, following the closing of the evidence taken here Monday before Frederick S. Tyler, United States commissioner.

Fain will supervise the investigation to be made along the Red River all the way from the one hundredth meridian, at the southern boundary of Harmon county, to the Arkansas state line, in an effort on the part of the government to settle definitely the dispute regarding the location of the north bank of the river. Former Attorney General T. W. Gregory will represent the state of Texas in the investigation. More than a dozen leading scientists and topographers will be employed by the government. Fain said, in the work of unearthing rocks and various marks used in determining the bank of the river more than 150 years ago.

The party of investigators will travel the entire distance of the river's course, about 800 miles, by foot, automobile, and motor boat. Fain expects the work to be completed by August 15 at which time all findings will be incorporated into a bound record to be presented to the supreme court for consideration this fall.

NORMAL SPREADS BOOSTING UNITS TO MANY PLACES

As a result of efforts being made by the Normal school to create more interest in the institution, organizations will be formed among the advanced teachers in every town and village of the district this fall and winter, whose purpose will be to keep the school before the people, promote a better feeling between other schools with the Normal, and increase attendance as much as possible.

It is also planned to have one of the instructors to meet with these organizations occasionally and help them in matters of importance which will arise. Those of the Normal faculty especially interested in the project have been keeping in touch with teachers now enrolled in the school and are working out more definite plans for the organization.

WALKER WORKING ON KATY RAILROAD PLANS

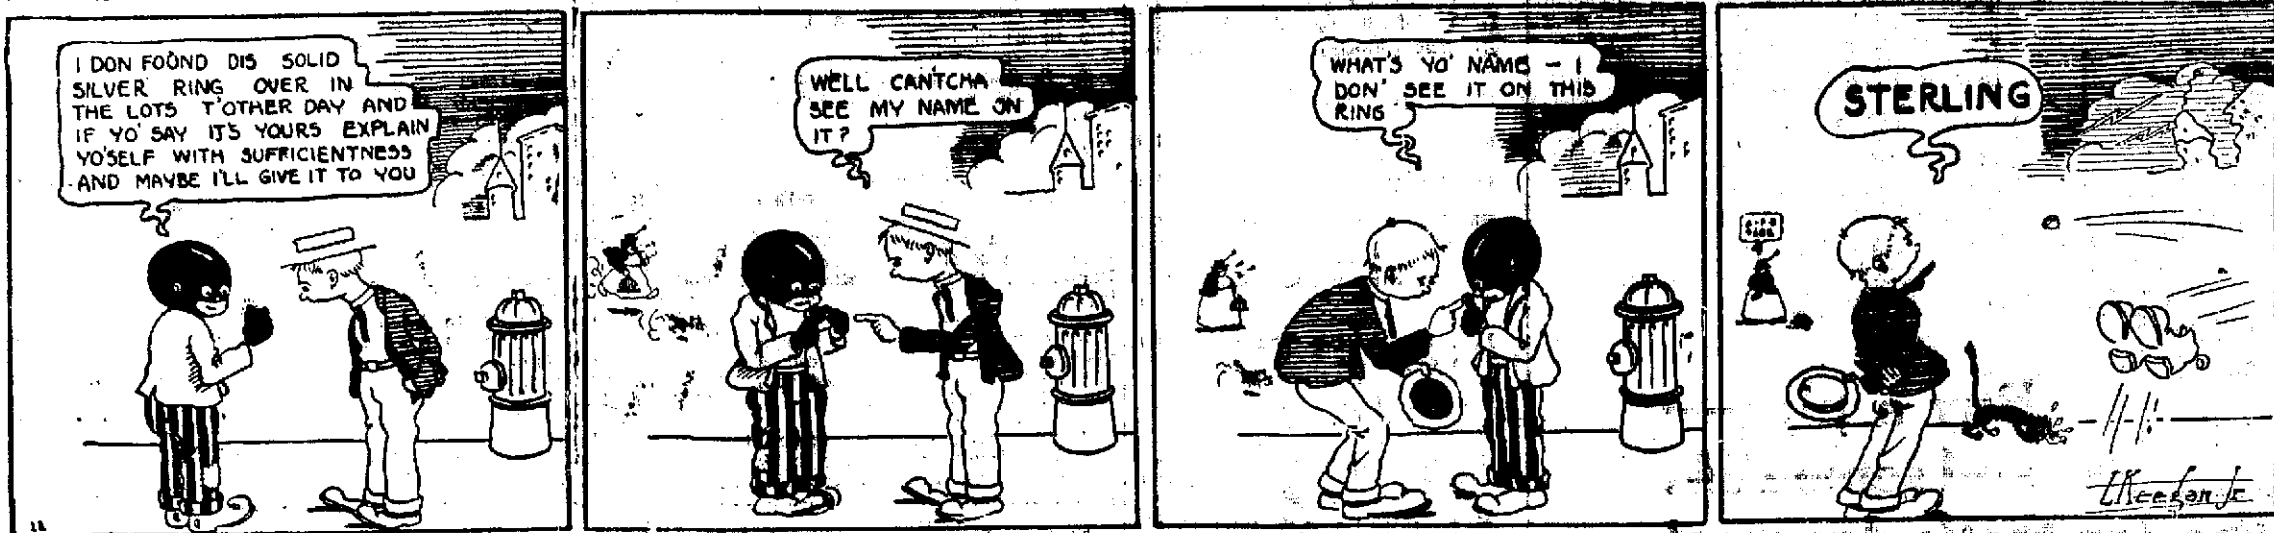

O. N. Walker, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, went to Atoka this morning to meet officials of the Katy railroad. Attempts are being made to get the officials of that line to improve the road bed from Ada to Oklahoma City. The track, according to those who travel over this stretch, has been damaged by the heavy rains this spring and summer. The road bed needs ballasting and the bridges need repairs.

RAINBOW VETERANS IN SECOND MEETING SOON

CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 13.—

The Rainbow Division, one of the most famous American divisions that participated in the World War will open its second annual convention here tomorrow. Several thousand are expected to attend the three day event.

The Cleveland Chapter will entertain 25 wounded Rainbow men still in hospitals.

The division was recruited from 26 states. The Infantry regiments came from New York, Ohio, Alabama and Iowa, the artillery from Indiana, Illinois and Minnesota.

After training at Camp Mills, Long Island, the division sailed for France in October of 1917, the fourth division to arrive.

After three months of intensive training in France the men went into the trenches near Baccarat. From then on it was continuous heavy fighting and hardships, at Champagne where the division was a stone wall against the great German offensive, from there to Chateau Thierry salient, and then followed St. Mihiel where in two days over 2,000 prisoners were taken.

The division was engaged in two important phases of the great Argonne Meuse offensive and finally ended up at Sedan on November 7.

From December, 1918, to April 1919, its members were in the Army of Occupation and finally arrived home in May, 1919.

Colonel M. A. Tinley of Council Bluffs, Iowa, is president of the division organization.

CONVENTION OF BLIND IS OPENED AT CAPITAL

(By the Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 13.—The annual convention of the Oklahoma Association of the Blind, was under way here today. Legislation, to be sought for the association, will be discussed during the convention.

Miss Ada Turner, Madison, Wis., newly appointed superintendent of rehabilitation work for blind soldiers of Oklahoma, was to be one of the principal speakers at the convention.

Want to buy a home? Turn to the want ads.

LEGION TO ORGANIZE "PLAY SOCIETY" SOON

Mysteries of the art of "Seeing France from a side-door Pullman," will be revealed to members of the American Legion of Oklahoma at the annual state convention to be held at Enid on September 26 and 27.

At a meeting in Oklahoma City last Sunday the state executive committee decided that the Legion's secret society "40 Hommes et 8 Chevaux" will be inaugurated among posts of the state at the annual encampment.

Every Legion post which sends fifteen or more delegates to the convention may organize a "Vesture" of the society and its members will be initiated at Enid according to the plans of the executive committee. A team of the Kansas City voiture of the Societe Nationale will be present to conduct the initiation.

Le Societe des 40 Hommes et 8 Chevaux is the play organization of the American Legion. It is organized for fun only. Its name is drawn from the wording on French freight cars during the war which announced that the car would accommodate 40 men or eight horses.

Members wear a blue overseas cap and a huge badge reproducing the French cars at the time of their ceremonies.

American Legion members of Philadelphia who recognized the secret society began the custom last year of attending the national convention in overseas style. They rode from Philadelphia to Cleveland in freight cars. Hundreds of voitures from all parts of the country will make the pilgrimage to Kansas City next October in the same way.

James A. Ingram of Oilton, C. D. Lewis of Okmulgee, and H. B. Davis of Duncan have been named to make arrangements for the initiation at Enid and to prepare for the trip of the Oklahoma voitures to Kansas City to attend the national encampment.

Many Posts Delinquent

Standing of posts at the close of the state membership campaign on July 4 was not determined by the state executive committee at its meeting Sunday because of the fact that a large number of reports had not been submitted. Returns will be canvassed by the committee at its next meeting. Reports received before Sunday showed a large increase for nearly every post. Three posts gained more than 200 percent and numerous posts more than 100 percent.

PINE BLUFF, Ark. July 13.—Several lots of business houses, including banks, theaters and the post office at Star City near here were destroyed by fire early today. DISTRICTS OF COUNTY OPEN SUMMER SESSION

Several districts of the county, including at least two consolidated districts, opened their summer terms of school this week. It was reported to A. Floyd, county superintendent.

Latta consolidated District No. 1 opened their summer session Monday with a record enrollment, 150 pupils being listed on the roll the first day. Elmer H. Gillerman is principal and five other teachers are employed. They are Raymond Caskey, a graduate with highest honors from East Central State Normal last spring, Lola Guin, Lillie Wauson, Opal Little and Grace Bertram. Most of these teachers are graduates of the Normal and the rest have at least two year certificates.

Latta consolidated district uses three trucks and a wagon to bring pupils to school and is running an eight month term.

Walnut Grove district also opened their summer term this week with good attendance reported. Now Bethel district employing three teachers. Alexander Dean and wife and Mrs. Young, also in session, these three also hold certificates from the Normal.

NORMAL NOTES

W. J. Marshall, member of the State Board of Education, was in the city yesterday and while here paid the Normal a visit. He delivered a short address at the special assembly Tuesday morning.

Normal Head Visits
Dr. James P. Battenberg, president of the Alva Normal, was in the city Tuesday and Wednesday. He spoke at the special assembly Tuesday morning and created a great amount of enthusiasm on his analysis of the necessity of Normal students and teachers standing together in order to get what they need from the state legislature. He also spent some time talking along an inspirational nature. At the request of Dr. Linscheid, he sang a solo, "Annie Laurie," which was well received.

Prof. E. C. Wilson is busy today editing the East Central for the summer edition which will be off the press by the end of the week. Through the help of the Chamber of Commerce the school is able to reestablish the regular publication of the journal.

The water system at the Normal was out of order today. Students in the training school were dismissed early on this account.

A unique method has been adopted by the Coal County club in advertising their meeting which was held today. A box of coal was placed on exhibition in a prominent place in the hall to attract attention.

Senior graduates are sending out their invitations for commencement exercises to be held next week.

WEAK; RUN-DOWN

Carolina Lady Got So She Could Just Drag. "Cardui Built Me Up," She Declares.

Kernersville, N. C.—In an interesting statement regarding Cardui, the Woman's Tonic, Mrs. Wesley Mabe, of near here, recently said: "I have known Cardui for years, but never knew its worth until a year or so ago. I was in a weakened, run-down condition. I became draggy—didn't eat or sleep to do any good; couldn't do anything without a great effort. I tried different remedies and medicines, yet I continued to drag.

"I decided to give Cardui a trial, and found it was just what I really needed. It made me feel much stronger soon after I began to use it. I began to eat more, and the nervous, weak feeling began to leave. Soon I was sleeping good.

"Cardui built me up as no other tonic ever did. "I used Cardui with one daughter who was puny, felt bad and tired out all the time. It brought her right out, and soon she was as well as a girl could be. We think there is nothing like Cardui."

Do not allow yourself to become weak and run-down from womanly troubles. Take Cardui. You may find it just what you really need. For more than 40 years it has been used by thousands and thousands, and found just as Mrs. Mabe describes.

GOVERNOR TO SPEAK AT FARMER'S RALLY

A postponement of the Annual Farmers' Union Rally Day at East Central Normal from June 23 to July 23 was announced today in a letter issued by J. B. Hill and B. A. Pratt, members of the program committee in charge.

Every local of the Farmers Union has been urged to spread this information to its members and each local or family is expected to invite as their guest, one business man of their community. "It is our purpose to make this a sure enough 'get together' meeting," the letter said.

Governor Robertson, President John Whitehurst, of the State Board of Agriculture, and John A. Simpson, president of the State Farmers' Union, will be speakers of the day. More than 600 farm boys and girls members of the Boys' and Girls' clubs are planning to meet at the rally. A basket dinner on the grounds and baseball games played by Maxwell, Frisco, Centor and Oakman will be entertainment features on the day's program.

A regular business session of the Pontotoc County Union will be held on this date, according to announcement.

T. O. Cullins, who has been confined to his home for the past three days on account of illness, is able to be on the streets again.

BUSINESS MAN IS IN FINE CONDITION

"Tanlac is my stand-by, for it restored me to health four years ago and I have kept in the pink of condition ever since by taking an occasional dose," said Paul Snodgrass, 229 West Capital St., Little Rock, Ark. Mr. Snodgrass has been in the fancy grocery business for thirty years and is known as a man whose word is as good as his bond.

"In all my life I have never known a medicine like Tanlac. When I began taking it I was in such an awfully weak, run-down condition I was hardly able to attend to business. I had had no appetite for a long time and the little I managed to eat did not digest properly and caused me no end of trouble. I was nervous in the daytime and restless at night, and I felt so miserable in the mornings it was all I could do to force myself to get up and go to the store."

"I began to improve almost from the first dose of Tanlac and it was not long before I was my old self again feeling just fine. It built me up wonderfully; why, in a few weeks' time I gained fourteen pounds in weight. There is no doubt about it, Tanlac certainly delivers the goods."

Tanlac is sold in Ada by M. A. Waits Drug store.

BLIND STUDENT WORKS BY MAIL FOR EDUCATION

NORMAN, July 13.—(Special)—Education by correspondence, even though he is blind in both eyes, is being made possible for C. E. Utzman, student in the school for the blind, Alangardo, N. M. He is a former resident of Oklahoma, and when he could not get the advanced courses which he desired at Alangardo, knowing the reputation of O. U., he enrolled in the correspondence study department, extension division.

He is enrolled in two correspondence courses, and besides these, he carries on residence work at the blind school. By means of the help of others who read to him, he can write his lessons on the typewriter.

He has also mastered the touch typewriter system, and no doubt he thought this a wonderful invention. He didn't have any chance to peep under the desk and see what keys he was hitting while teachers were not looking.

HERBS USED IN MEDICINE

A Manchester, England, paper urges the renewed cultivation of old fashioned medical herbs in English gardens. In the United States they have also gone out of fashion as a feature of the small garden, although they are imported in large quantities from Turkey, India and China, where they are grown purely for commercial purposes, as their medical value is recognized by many leading physicians. Tons of medical herbs are used annually in the preparation of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a most successful medicine for woman's ills. It contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and women afflicted with such ailments should try it. (adv)

SOLDIER GRAVES
HARD TO LOCATE

Much Difficulty Found in Removing American From Germany.

(By the Associated Press)
BERLIN, July 13.—The work of exhuming the bodies of the American soldiers who died as prisoners of war in Germany has developed such difficulties that some uncertainty attaches to the identity of the few which have been unearthed from among the unnamed German and other dead in the cemeteries near the old prison camps. Many of the graves were unmarked and the names of the men buried in some places were unknown so that much guesswork entered into the task of the American Grave Registration service, in charge of two American soldiers army officers which has superintended the operations. "The bodies exhumed comprise what are thought to be the remains of American soldiers who died in Germany," said a member of the Registration Service. "We have shipped fifteen from Leipzig to Antwerp for transportation to America. Our operations have been carried out in Strasburg, Stockach (on the northern end of Lake Constance), Lindau-am-Bodensee, Munich, Dammstadt, Coblenz, Stuttgart, and Hindenburg, Silesia."

To exhume and remove the single soldier buried near Hindenburg—in a flower-covered grave shaded by chestnut trees it was necessary to obtain permission from the Inter-Allied High Commission at Oppeln, the Polish representative there, the head of German Self-Defense organizations and the leader of Polish insurgents for the grave was in territory held by Polish insurgents, and the big army trucks of the Americans had to pass between lines of fighting Germans and Poles. A member of the American military mission in Berlin negotiated and obtained assurances that the American party would not be molested.

Two bodies were exhumed near

Berlin, one at Tichel, Poland and another near Dresden. The work of the section, it is expected, will be completed about July 15. Captain Eugene M. Dwyer and Captain G. Cole have conducted the work with a civilian personnel of 24 men comprising chauffeurs, embalmers and technical assistants.

Nation Spends More on Her Luxury Than Learning Is Report

WASHINGTON, July 13.—(Capital News Service).—Wide publication of the fact that the United States spends dollars for cosmetics, perfumes, tobacco, gum, and other luxuries to cents for education seems to have had the effect of arousing the public to the need of generous support to institutions of learning.

The smaller colleges, particularly, are being given attention through the judicious distribution of sums approximating $100,000,000 and donated to the cause of high education. The Towner-Sterling Department of Education bill, therefore, which authorizes an appropriation of $100,000,000, would, if enacted into law, call for the expenditure through federal government channels of a sum so small by comparison with that spent for non-essentials as to stamp it as negligible, say supporters of the bill.

The Towner-Sterling measure would, it is pointed out, make it possible to supplement sums raised and appropriated by states and expended for the purpose of combating illiteracy, to educate the immigrant, promote public school education, encourage physical education through instruction as to the general health, sanitation and recreation.

Don't forget the name of the remedy you need when the stomach or bowels are disordered. Pepples Ash Bitters quickly corrects such troubles and makes you feel bright and cheerful. Every man should have a bottle at home all the time. It is the dose taken promptly that prevents sickness, misery and expense. Price $1.25 per bottle. Sold at Gwin & Mays Drug Co.

Dr. Warner, D. O., the eye, ear, nose, throat and general specialist, will visit Ada every third week; office with Peoples Drug store, 219 East Main street. Have your eyes examined and proper glasses fitted. No extra charge for residence calls. Phone 663 for appointments and date of next visit. 6-23-Imo.
